A special workday has been called for this Saturday, May 26, starting at 9:00. The field is in need of raking and patch work and helpers are asked to bring rakes and shovels. The outfield fence is also in need of repair and hammers will be needed for this job. There is much work to be done and any help will be appreciated.

Another workday will be held on Sunday, June 3, to fence in the play area. This is an afternoon session from 2:00 to 5:00.

$3,194,138.63 FY '85 BUDGET APPROVED FOR M.S.A.D. 44

Voters present at the Annual M.S.A.D. 44 District Budget Meeting on Monday evening of this week approved $3,194,138.63 for fiscal year 1985.

A reduction of the gross budget was attempted as a motion to appropriate $132,740.66 (instead of the recommended $232,740.66) as the local share without state participation was made and seconded. An amendment restoring the recommended amount was offered and approved. The article, with the originally recommended amount of $232,740.66 was approved by a wide margin.

The local share of the $3,194,138.63 budget amounting to $1,279,490.16 will be assessed the District's member towns as follows: Andover, $232,548.86; Bethel, $477,246; Greenwood, $208,517.86; Newry, $118,697.80; Woodstock, $244,697.04.

Also approved was an S.A.D. 44 Adult Education Budget of $40,500 with a local share of $11,500, and a $8,670 for Energy Conservation Improvements at the Andover, Bethel Bisbee and Woodstock Elementary schools, with a local share of $867.

Each municipality's share of the local portion of Adult Education plus Energy Conservation Improvements would appear to be Andover, $2,247.72; Bethel, $4,612.85; Greenwood, $1,996.11; Newry, $1,145.18; Woodstock, $2,365.14.

The N.O.V.A. Cooperative Board's Regional Vocational Budget for 1984-85 of $242,053 was approved. The local assessment of $48,413.97 is included in the S.A. D. 44 gross budget. The N.O.V.A.

FROM THE bethel town office

Meeting in two sessions, Thursday, May 17, and Monday, May 21, the Budget Committee approved a municipal budget for the fiscal year 1984-1985 proposed by the Selectmen at their regular meeting May 14. The fiscal year budget will fund local services from July 1, 1984 through June 30, 1985. Budget Committee actions, together with recommendations, were forwarded to the Board of Selectmen for its final approval at the Tuesday evening, May 22, meeting.

At this writing detailed figures are being compiled and will be reported in the next edition of this column. On the surface, the amount to be raised from taxation to fund local services (excluding education) and the county assessment is about 5% higher than the 12 month 1983 period. However, if voters accept proposals of the Budget Committee and Selectmen to use $120,000 of surplus to reduce taxation and $57,500 of Federal Revenue Sharing to defray the costs of public works projects and certain capital replacement/improvement items, the effect on the tax rate generated from the municipal budget is about the same as in 1983. Also, allowing

An estimated 125 S.A.D. 44 voters attended the Monday meeting. Stephen Wright of Newry acted as moderator for the 47-minute session.

NEWS FROM ADULT AND COMMUNITY EDUCATION

The 1983-84 year for the S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program is rapidly coming to a close, with the final meetings of most classes having taken place, and with the Class of 1984 eagerly awaiting graduation exercises set for May 28, at 7:30 in the Telstar Cafeteria. Twenty-five adults have earned their diplomas or GED certificates in the past year, and many will be present with their friends and families for graduation. The S.A.D. 44 Advisory Council invites any member of the public to attend the graduation. It is always a moving event, and a chance to recognize the achievements of some very special people.

Summer Adult and Community Education activities will include GED preparation and at least one session of the Adult Learning Center for adults who would like help with reading, writing or math skills.

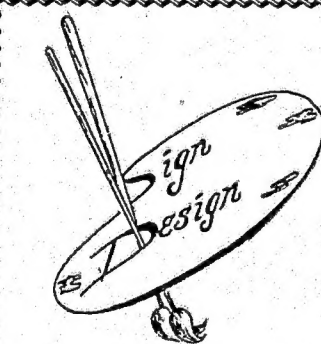

Anyone who would like to work on basic skills or on GED preparation should contact the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780, as soon as possible, so that the summer schedule can be arranged. In addition to the Adult Learning Center other summer plans include Town Team Tennis, a recreational league which will play on Saturday mornings, starting June 16, and some special programs to be jointly-sponsored by S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education and NTL.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell is already at work on an exciting line-up of courses for next fall. Anyone who is interested in teaching or who has a suggestion for a course to be included is asked to contact Mrs. Newell at 824-2780.

NOTES FROM Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

Five contracting opportunities exist on the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest. Quotes will be secured for: brush sawing, brush mowing and stump cutting in wildlife openings; site preparation work for natural reforestation; and removal of the upper flight of stairs on the Speckled Mountain fire tower. Persons interested in the preceding are asked to contact Mary Paine for more information.

District Clerk-Typist, Elaine Nichols, is leaving for a position with the Farmers Home Administration at Lancaster, N. H. Her replacement will be selected from a list of candidates furnished by the Portsmouth, N. H. Office of Personnel Management (OPM). Arbor Day is a day set aside by law for encouraging the planting of shade and forest trees, shrubs and vines about homes, along highways, and about public grounds of the State, thus contributing to the wealth and comforts of the people. In Maine, the third full week in May is observed as Arbor Week. The first Arbor Day was observed in Nebraska in 1872. More than a million trees were planted on the first Arbor Day. You may wish to add a tree, shrub or vine to the landscape this year to help celebrate Arbor Week, or perhaps to commemorate a birthday, anniversary, or other special event.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends and family for their thoughts, cards, gifts and flowers, while I was in the hospital. I would also like to thank the staff at Stephens Memorial Hospital for the excellent care I received.

Safety Tip
Soon it will be swimming time again. Everyone should remember to have a friend with him when you go swimming. Parents or anyone that takes small tots to the beach must watch the children closely. It takes a very small amount of water to drown.

If a child is found that has drowned or nearly drowned, check to see if the child is breathing. You should tip the head and neck back to open the airway, then swing the chest to see if it is moving up and down. Put your ear down to their mouth to see if you can feel or hear air coming out. If the child is not breathing give four quick breaths not as forceful as you would for an adult. If it is an infant just blow cheek full puffs. If air goes in, then check the pulse in the neck, upper arm infant. If there is a pulse then continue with your breaths, one every three seconds.

If there is no pulse you need to know C.P.R.

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. —

This was a beautiful morning to be appreciated, more, because so many have had clouds or rain. Drops glistened on the grass and on the first fine green of opening leaves. The air was filled by freshness that follows a spring shower. I breathed deeply of the soft air, tilting my head back to look at the blueness of the sky with the misty green of the new leaves against it.

My thrush greeted me from beyond the shed. He seemed to say, "Hello, Old Friend, have you been waiting for me?" He lit on a boulder and proved he possessed all the musical qualifications needed. The softness and richness came forth as he glanced around with vigilant eye.

Over the lawn the gold finches were looping in the sunlight; a vision of loveliness.

By afternoon those precious (?) black flies were out. I dressed for them and took a short walk.

Across the pond I spotted a blue heron, my first of this spring. It looked as if it had had a long hard journey. It had ruffled feathers, a dumpy appearance, and no energy left. Another flew big and proud! This one lifted and lowered its feet and its long neck made a perfect S. I immediately named them Dumpy and Pert.

Beyond the Spring Road the early flowers look as though someone had taken a great brush and stroked them gently with light green.

Again the clear violin notes of the hermit thrush made the valley alive with music. This made spring worth waiting for and dreaming about for half a year.

I came to a favorite place where the ground was misty green, and nestled down among the leaves of other years, the arbutus covered the ground with tiny pink or white stars, which filled the air with fragrance.

I encountered a few Mayflies. They are really pretty things. When they alight on a twig, standing high on fragile legs, the upward curve of the abdomen and two pairs of wings, the first of which are much larger than the second, both are seen to be lacy-veined. In color the body and wings alike run a spectrum of hues. The wings often display iridescence.

Coming back along the pond, it was nice to hear the Redwings. A muskrat emerged, sniffed, and silently followed a path into the water. He might have been overlooked but for the chocolate brown motion, which caught my eye. He swam away, leaving a wedge shaped wake, as he steadily paddled to reeds near by.

Even though the spring has seemed wet and cold things have kept a seasonal schedule. Our ploughing and planting are done and things have pretty well evened up. The urge to sprout and grow never falters.

If you listen, if you lean close to the singing, springtime earth. You can hear faint muffled voices.

You can hear sounds of mirth; For above the running water, Souls of grass and shrub and tree

Are now lifting through the darkness In a mystic symphony.

—Edgar D. Kramer

How the days fly by. I can never catch up with all I plan to do. "The hurrier I go the behinder I get," as the saying goes. So many things to do at this time but I take time to go places and find the work is waiting for me when I return. I joined the T.C.C.'s for lunch in Bethel on Thursday then a social gathering at Lyndell Farr's in West Paris in the afternoon. On Saturday I went with Doris Hayes to the Retired Teachers meeting in Oxford.

Verna Libby, Falmouth, was with her sister, Doris Hayes, from Wednesday through Friday. They were in Lewiston on Friday.

Denise and son, Joshua Adams, walked up to see me one afternoon and brought me some delicious fiddle head greens which they had gathered.

Rena Curtis also called with a gift from "my" Collista of Freeport.

W.H.S. NOTES — WOODSTOCK MUSEUM TO OPEN IN JUNE

Recently Annie Crockett gave the Curator a nice book on antiques printed in 1910 originally which has some advice for those interested in purchasing antiques would do well to heed. Quoted are excerpts from the book, "The Lure of the Antique" by Walter A. Dy-

"Make your antique furniture a means, not an end. There is a charm and beauty in it, when it is chosen with good taste and good judgment, which the devotee can never adequately express, nor the Philistine ever understand. It is desirable only when it is real, when it is beautiful, when it is good for something, when it means something. In short, when it is good, it is very, very good, and when it is bad, it is horrid. . . . there are plenty of fine old things whose intrinsic beauty and sincerity of workmanship raise them to the high level of works of art. Like the Iliad or the Taj Mahal, they will abide when this generation's fads have vanished."

"DON'T LOOK FOR BAR- GAINS!

"Study designs in old books and pieces in museums, read all you can find on the subject, and talk with your friend, the expert."

"And antiques should never be bought simply because they are antiques, without regard to intrinsic beauty. If you look long enough and pay enough, you can secure beautiful things. Permit nothing ugly in your home, no matter how old it is."

"Use discretion in the selection of styles. Let the pieces harmonize with each other, with the decorations of the room, with the whole house."

As antique dealers often realize, customers will often pass up really good items in favor of something that is cheap or gaudy simply because of the price tag. And museums, like Woodstock's, do provide collectors with a good basis of comparison. Museum's do, of course, get much given to them that is not particularly desirable, but by and large, they try to display the best they have to the best advantage so that their patrons may have a standard of excellence by which to judge.

The Woodstock Museum will open on Saturdays from 1-4 p. m. beginning the first week in June. The first month will feature a book sale. The museum is well worth visiting though extensive interior renovation must yet be done. The exhibits include old church furniture, fine home furnishings, antiques and collectibles, old maps and photographs, a reference library and archives, and, of course, memorabilia of Bryant Pond. Plan to stop by for a visit sometime this summer.

Some time ago Ruby Emery gave the Society a large old (1887) book entitled Crown Jewels. It includes poetry, art, and music, all arranged according to topics. Like

Letters to the Editor

May 21, 1984

To the Editor: Through your paper I would like to make the public aware of an opportunity available to a segment of our population often overlooked in summer recreation programs. The Greenwood Recreation Committee is offering teenage girls aged 13 to 16 the chance to play ball this summer in an organized league. They are willing to combine with Bethel and Woodstock girls in order to have a roster large enough to field a team. Those who do sign-up are only asked to be committed to attending all possible games and practices. A minimum of 16 girls are needed. If interested they should contact me at 875-2683. Thank you. Coach, Shirley Seames find the golf course dry and in excellent shape and the driving range much improved over last year. Perhaps the most exciting news is the golf instruction program that will be held June 14-17 and June 28-July 1. Golfers from as far away as Connecticut have expressed interest in attending the three day school.

A golf school package is being offered that does not include lodging for area residents. For more information call Pete or Brenda at 824-2175, Ext. 402.

"Home," "Patriotism," "Friendship," etc. Some of the poems are little-known ones by very famous authors. It is a good book to have on reserve in the Woodstock Museum. The following is an example by a famous Maine author.

The Heavenly Flame
Love is the root of creation; God's essence.

Worlds without number
Lie in his bosom like children: He made them for His purpose only.

Only to love and to be loved again.
He breathed forth His spirit into the slumbering dust, and upright standing, it laid its hand on His heart, and felt it was warm with a flame out of heaven;

Quench, O quench not that flame!
It is the breath of your being.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
The Society is grateful to Mrs. Emery for this acquisition.

President Annie Crockett wishes to remind readers that money is being collected for a donation from the Society for the refurbishing of the Statue of Liberty; the suggestion came from Vice Chairman of the Board, Eva B. Twitchell. If anyone would like to make a donation to the cause, please send it to President-Treasurer Annie Crockett. Annie also recently had a table for the Society at the D.A.R. sale in Bryant Pond.

ECOLIZER MACHINE AVAILABLE AT HEALTH CENTER

On Friday, May 25, 8-5, Saturday, May 26, 8-12 noon, and all day Tuesday, May 29, the Bethel Area Health Center will have a machine available which will estimate the amount of carbon monoxide in the lungs.

Carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke or in the air combines with the hemoglobin in the blood, shutting out some oxygen usually carried by the blood. The heart, brain, all organs, and tissues need large amounts of oxygen. As carbon monoxide goes up, available oxygen goes down. The lungs and heart must work harder to make up the loss.

While small amounts of carbon monoxide are normal, increased amounts are most often due to cigarette smoke and sometimes due to work situations or faulty auto exhausts. Smoking 10 cigarettes in 4-8 in Boston, where they participated in an enclosed car produces carbon monoxide levels up to 90 parts per million in the shared air, and doubles the carbon monoxide level in both smokers and non-smokers. The normal level of carbon monoxide is 4-10 ppm. With elevated levels of carbon monoxide some people—including drivers—cannot distinguish between relative brightness, lose some ability to judge time intervals and take longer to respond to taillights. They also show impaired performance on some psychomotor tests. The effects of carbon monoxide elevation are immediate and they are reversible if you stop smoking. Anyone interested in finding out the level of carbon monoxide in his/her system may stop at the Health Center to be tested free of charge. It's a simple, painless test that requires only a few minutes.

gramming, including an all day workshop and a conference and reception with industry representatives from DuPont, Shell, Bell Laboratories, Tenneco and Boston Edison, among others. The special program for the teachers focused on five subject areas: Biotechnology, The Chemistry of Polymers, Uses of Microcomputers in Science Education, New Sources of Energy, and Laser Physics.

The teachers heard lectures by practicing scientists, observed demonstrations and slide presentations, and took part in a variety of activities. Teachers in the laser group built and experimented with a nitrogen laser and a voice modulator/amplifier and saw a holography demonstration.

Teachers in the program will spend two weeks during the summer in industry-related seminars working with scientists and observing the current applications of the scientific concepts they teach. North Paris— Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

It has been very quiet in our neck of the woods from May 11 to May 21 as the construction workers went to Bingham to help on a job there. The huge shovel and trucks, etc., returned to North Paris May 18.

The dance by the Old Parisians and the bean hole bean supper put on by Pleasant Pond Grange was indeed a great success. Joe Penham donated some of his latest records and Joe Reidy of Tyngsboro, Mass., won a free record. The show before the dance was exceptionally good and Richard Felt told jokes on several North Paris people. Vernon Inman spilled the contras dances and if any one made a mistake, he stopped the dancing and made them start over again. Might as well do things right.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pulsifer Jr., who live on the "Old County Road" are receiving congratulations on the birth of son on May 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott will go to Boston on May 23 where Harlan has an appointment at Massachusetts General Hospital to have his injured leg examined and x-rayed or whatever it needs to see if he can be helped.

Sunday morning the local apple orchards were sprayed by airplane while they were damp.

Eveline has been sick with the flu five days and says the flu bug must have come in through the key hole as she wouldn't know. She let him through the door. She hopes he won't show up again for awhile.

Hope everybody is careful on the long Memorial week end as many children will be on the highways in Parades and whatever. Have a good week.

Robert Lambert, Tyngsboro, Mass., came Sunday evening to Reidy's trailer for several days of fishing. Mrs. Reidy and her house

Those planning to attend should meet there at 6:30 p.m. The group discussed plans for starting a Jeanette Fleet Memorial Girls Athletic Fund. Nancy Wight will check on Oxford County Days for taking the children on the annual trip to Santa's Village.

The Oxford County Mineral and Gem Club will meet at the Moses Mason Club, Bethel, May 24, at 7 p.m.

Louise Tetley, Olive Anderson, Bea Lowell, Eleanor Morton, Karlene Bachelder, Eleanor Davis, Gilberte Seeley, and Betsy Clark were in Rumford, bowling, Wednesday.

Jacqueline Knaulis, Harrisville, R.I., was a guest of Gilberte Seeley recently and won a deck chair at Groan & McGurn's.

Gilberte Seeley attended the Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club Landowners Picnic at the home of Willard and Sylvia Wight, Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Littlefield, Julie and Jody, Bethel; Mrs. Claire O'Donnell, Michelle and Philip Jr., Cumberland; Christine Bachelder, Carthage; Tracy and Brian Bachelder, Newry. John S. Greenleaf

Electrician

"Over 15 Years Experience"

City and County ordinances affecting electric wiring of all buildings and homes are definitely stringent. The purpose, however, is evident. Many disasters, fires and home accidents, are the result of defective wiring by homeowners or tenants who have neither the knowledge nor expertise in electrical wiring, and are not aware of the dangers involved. For those reasons it is imperative that everyone needing electrical wiring insist upon the service of a competent, licensed and insured electrical contractor who is qualified to do the work.

JOHN S. GREENLEAF ELECTRICIAN, phone 824-2744, is a local, insured, licensed electrical contractor. Few persons in this area can boast of over 15 years of competent and skilled service to the residents and business concerns of this area.

JOHN S. GREENLEAF ELECTRICIAN has established an enviable reputation throughout the entire field of electrical contracting and has proven worthy of the faith and patronage of our people. For all your electrical problems, whether industrial, commercial or residential wiring, see JOHN S. GREENLEAF ELECTRICIAN first.

High St., West Paris

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Not very good weather tonight as I type this writing for the paper. Real cloudy and a little drizzle. Hope it doesn't rain too hard and according to the weatherman it isn't supposed to.

Monday wasn't a very good day for working outside, so did little things that needed doing inside. Russell can usually find Grange work that needs doing and I don't have to worry, there is always something staring me in the face waiting to be done. I can't keep up with things any better than lots of other folks can.

Russell did some raking Tuesday and saved the leaves to rototill into the garden out front. Leaves make good fertilizer when they rot. Won't help too much this year but another year they will be working to help make the soil better. I have been sewing whenever I could to make a few items for my granddaughter's birthday, the 22nd. Things cost too much for me to buy pretty things for her, so I try to get these old hands to work and make something that will last a lot longer than anything I can buy.

Wednesday was one of those days when Russell went one way and I another. He had business in Bethel to attend to so left bright and early. I had things to do in Norway and South Paris, so when it was time, I got into my jalopy and headed out. I got my business tended to and was home before Russell was, so thought I did real well as I did a little shopping while in town.

Peggy called in to let us know she had tests for her health and was alright so would be heading for Massachusetts on Thursday. She called Myrna and Myrna called us on Thursday to let us know that Peggy was at her destination and had made it O. K. Hope she has a good summer there.

Russell and I went to Fryeburg on Thursday, also. Had to get my allergy shots and see how things were going. Stopped as usual to have lunch.

Russell started early to take things up to Hilda's where we are to have our garden and told me he would be home about 12:00 for lunch. I had things nearly ready about 11:30 when he drove. Something had let go in the rototiller and he couldn't do any more with it until he could find out what the trouble was and fix it. He decided to go plant what he had gotten rototilled and after lunch went up the road again. He didn't get back until late. When he did come, he said he had stayed to plant what he could, that had been rototilled. Guess he got quite a lot done from when he said. Anyway, got the peas planted along with a few other things. I whittled the day away by cooking and writing letters as well as a little sewing and crocheting, so we were both busy. Got a nice load of loam to fix the yard with, so if I can't find anything else to do, I can always go out and shovel dirt. We want to cover the gravel up by the trailer and smooth it off to make a nice looking lawn, if possible. It will take some work, but what doesn't?

We planned to go to Rumford Grange Saturday night, as Russell had been asked to be an officer and do something for the program. He worked on the rototiller.

tiller quite a lot while I made a cake to take with us and all those other things that have to be done in the house. We headed for Rumford about five o'clock. It had started to rain and rained hard all the way up through but had stopped when we came back, that is until we got to West Paris. We had a good-time though not too big a turnout. It was Gentlemen's night and I thought there would be a good crowd, but we were all disappointed that way. Hope the same thing doesn't happen at our Gentlemen's night May 25. Jeff Mills will be there to speak on Legislative subjects and we will have other entertainment besides, so come and have a good time with us. A 6:30 potluck supper will precede the meeting and there is always good things for one to fill an empty tummy on, so be sure to be there.

Russell has struggled all day to find the trouble with his rototiller and finally found a broken piece that is causing the trouble. It is a pin that hold some parts together and the broken part was hidden, so it took a long time to find it.

I went walking for a little ways today with Misty and Karen Yates and found Trilliums along the road side. The red ones are pretty but I don't care for the smell and never did. Lots of purple violets decorate the lawn at Lawrence's home as well as strawberry blossoms. Have seen a few white violets below the trailer as well. How I used to love to roam into the edge of the woods years ago looking for the first wild flowers. We usually had a contest at school to see who could find the most. Don't remember that I ever won, but I enjoyed looking for them and I wish I could wander through the woods now to see what pretty flowers I could find. Some of the flowers are so tiny and delicate, like the star flower. Nature has a way of putting beauty where you least expect it.

Our feathered friends are still around and I have seen a couple of new birds. One was another kind of finch, but the other one, I couldn't find in either bird book we have. I have never seen Pine Siskins before, so didn't realize what little fighters they are, but I get many a laugh from watching them at the feeder of this little seeds. We were hoping to have the Goldfinches there, but the little Siskins don't let them at the feeder very often. Haven't seen the Indigo Buntings for several days. I was hoping he and his mate would stay around, but guess they found a better place to go. We watch the birds we have and enjoy them all we can and if strange ones come, run for the book to see if I can identify them. It makes things interesting and that helps make life itself more interesting also. Bugs are out and I hear the peepers so guess Spring has finally really got here. It has been a long time coming and I get out into the sunshine all I can hoping it will help me get rid of the trouble I had this winter. Hopefully, it will all who need it.

Forgot to say we had a short visit from Darnita Yates and friend the other night. Hope they call again some time.

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Laurel and I went to Lewiston Monday on business and pleasure. In Grafton we saw three moose which crossed the road in a group in front of us, and stood near the roadside as we passed. In Bethel, we were joined by Flossie and Jerry Bernier and they Kimball and we all attended the concert at Telstar. This was a performance by the K through third grade which I enjoyed hugely except for the last song and dance and I prayed throughout that one as it was rock-beat music.

Ray and Coleen Chittum visited briefly last week bringing with them William and Mary Belanger, who are purchasing their lakeside home. The Chittums have enjoyed their home here but since moving to Ohio and establishing a business have been unable to spend enough time to make it worthwhile to keep the camp. Coleen planned to fly to California after returning home to be with her daughter and family including a new baby.

The weather has remained cool but quite an improvement over May of '83. We are promised a hot spell which should be here before this column is read. Leslie and Andy Aron's daughter, Norma, is spending a month with her parents and other relatives and friends.

MOSES MASON HOUSE

Judges this year will include Mrs. Alice Johnson, Bryant Pond; Elizabeth Mason Carter, West Bethel, and Richard Dornhmann, Bethel. The art show honors a founder and treasurer of the Bethel Historical Society and a local artist of note whose interest in the young was well-known.

Dr. Moses Mason's 195th birthday observance will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 27, from 2 to 4 o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. Mason will again be portrayed by Ernest and Betty Perkins and the afternoon will feature a wide variety of activities with music provided by the Music Committee of the Society. Demonstrating various crafts will be Sue Laban, spinning; Audrey Brooke, stenciling; Ruth Wright, quilting; Agnes Haines, basketmaking; Dick Hastings, needlepoint. Helen Morton will again be sketching. Strawberry punch and a 195th birthday cake again made by Diane Howe will be served to those attending. This is the spring open house of the museum and anyone interested in attending is cordially invited to do so. 1984 marks the 10th anniversary of the opening of Dr. Moses Mason House as a museum and all members and friends are encouraged to drop by and help the Society celebrate this important milestone in its progress as an organization.

Anyone interested in signing up for the trip to Portland that includes visits to three historic sites (Shaker Museum, Wadsworth-Longfellow house and the Portland Observatory) is encouraged to call the Society office at 824-2908 or SAID 44 Adult and Community Education at 824-2780.

A century ago the "Oxford County Advertiser" reported on May 2, 1884 that a school meeting in West Bethel was declared illegal "on account of not sufficient warning." Another meeting a few days later was also declared illegal "on account of the agent's wife signing the warrant." On May 9, 1884 Abial Chandler was preparing to build his house for summer boarders (now Gardiner Gorman's on Mason Street). On May 30, 1884 the following item is recorded: "As Joseph Holt of Swan's Hill was passing through the village Main Street his horse became frightened by T. C. Curtis's dog running under his horse's feet. The horse reared, threw Mr. Holt off and he was injured quite severely." In the same column is news that Miss Fanny O. Philbrook, late preceptress of Gould Academy has presented the institution with "a very valuable collection of photographs of works of which will be worth much to future classes in history and literature."
